The Torch of Knowledge

Youth, with its problems, ambitions and anticipations, is a slow but steady development of the individual, nurtured by the enveloping power of learning. Education is the catalyst which creates the adult and implants with him the unsatisfied hunger for more knowledge — the goal of a complete and dynamic being.

This year the annual staff has represented, through pictures, a year in O'Donnell High School. In carrying out the theme, each section of the annual is divided into phases of education.

Career Day Highlights NHS Year

Steve directed a program about commonly made mistakes in parliamentary procedure.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Sammie Rowan, the NHS has become a well established organization in our school. It was begun three years ago. Ronny Jordan, Virginia Cook, and Kenneth Vestal are three of the original members.

This year the National Honor Society sponsored a project called Career Day. Many speakers visited OHS and lectured on their particular field of work. Also, the NHS is planning to sponsor a baby-sitting service for the voters when they go to the polls in April.

Mr. G. W. Baily, a Texas Tech student, spoke to us on speech and drama as a career.

Refreshments and conversation are looked forward to at every NHS meeting.

Hairdresser Jessie Lee and an assistant were among the speakers for Career Day.

Bobby portrayed a typical draft dodger who went to Vietnam.

Effort Overshadows Record

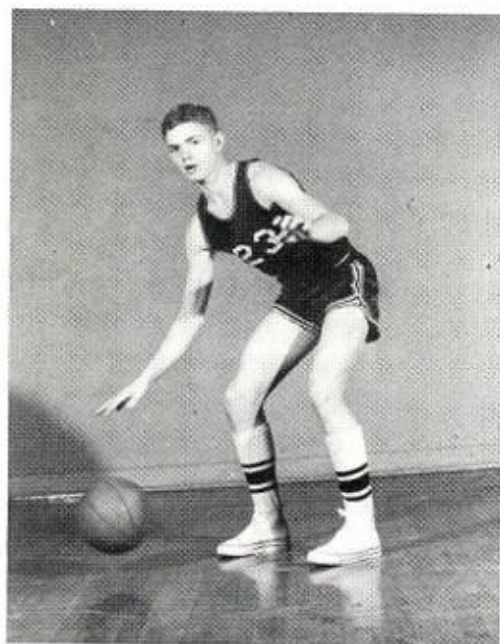

Although this year's basketball record was not the best, the players did a tremendous job on the court and represented our school, our spirit, and our capabilities in an appropriate manner.

The Eagles were led by Coach John Dickerson, who did an excellent job of teaching the players many things about the game. Our team captains for the year were Ronny Barnes and Eddie Joe Moore.

THE ROAD GOODBYE

The road I took was named Goodbye
The path looked strange. I wondered why
It left familiar things behind.
A hand caught mine . . . I paid no mind.

The stranger never once did say
Just what had brought him on my way.
On we went, and some afraid
I wished I hadn't come, but stayed.

All the friends that I once knew
Took a road named Goodbye too.
There were no two roads just the same
Though all were called Goodbye by name.

And though I couldn't understand
We walked together hand in hand.
We said no words, but just walked on,
I thought of things now past and gone.

I thought of games I'd lost and won,
I thought of all the things I'd done,
I thought of those I loved and cared,
Of times we'd had, of things we'd shared.

I thought of those I'd come to know.
Just knowing them — they'd helped me so.
I thought of things, of tears I'd shed . . .
Those same things now brought smiles instead.

I thought of all the happy days,
The sad ones now just seemed a haze,
And in a flash I came to see
How much the past had meant to me.

We walked along — I wondered where
The future led and what was there.
The past still echoed from behind
I was its, and it was mine.

But in my heart was still a fear,
And in my eye a shining tear;
Yet on my face there was a smile,
And we walked forward all the while.

I walked along the road Goodbye.
I looked back once . . . I heaved a sigh.
Then I remembered at my side —
My silent, but my constant guide.

The stranger's hand I felt in mine.
I looked into his face this time.
I asked his name — he turned just so,
He smiled and said, "I'm called Hello."

Let not the flame of learning be extinguished. In your youth nourish the spark to kindle a flicker, then fondle and nurture it with study. This, if sought sincerely will generate the illuminous glow of knowledge.
